Meeting Report

President Jeff welcomed members and guests, including guest speaker Angela Betts, Tony Lagozinno's guest Andy Ruggerio and his wife Vera, Benny Bosman's guest Brad Silby and several member's partners.

Jeff noted that the last week was one of intense activity for the club, with the successful staging of the 25th Art Show in addition to the monthly shed sale. He expressed thanks to all members and partners who have contributed time and effort to ensure the success of these events. The financial result for each was outstanding as noted below.

The Art Show raffle was drawn, the winners being Marie Constanzo of Athelstone and Michelle Mius?? of Greenwith.

Iole Marcioinni advised members that a letter of thanks has been received from Dr Chin Lim on behalf of the Hope Foster Home in Beijing. This relates to the club donation of $2,000 following Dr Chin Lim's presentation to the club on 3rd September last year.

The sergeant had a great session. Apart from again terrorizing unfortunate Essendon followers, it was noted that some bike loving club members may be at risk of flouting new anti bikie legislation!

The meeting saw two new members inducted by President Jeff:

- Brad Silby was introduced by Benny Bosman and is a former member of the Rotary Club of Murray Bridge but has since relocated to Adelaide. Brad operates a number of Toyworld stores.
- Andy Ruggerio and his wife were introduced by Tony Lagozzino. Andy is proprietor of Foodland Prospect and has been active in community affairs for some years.

A big welcome to both new members!

Our guest speaker for the evening was Angela Betts, who is an OH&S officer with BHP Billiton at Olympic Dam. She was introduced by club risk management officer Chris Gascoigne.

Angela gave a brief outline of the issues that need to be considered in ensuring a safe working environment in workplaces, including voluntary fundraising operations such as the club shed.

The presentation identified a number of opportunities for improvement in the club's activities at various locations and will no doubt keep members busy for some time ahead! Pat Ruotolo proposed the vote of thanks for a very informative presentation.
