

Hands on Workshops

You have probably wondered why some of your photographs look great - while others are, well, a bit ho-hum.

Malcolm Brownlee, one of Melbourne's leading professional photographers, and a great communicator, has agreed to support the community by donating his time and expertise to help you unlock the secrets of your digital camera.

You will learn the tips and tricks the professionals use. The pictures in this brochure were taken by course participants after just three sessions! You can also expect to produce results like this!

The course will take you through the vital stages of basic skills, giving you a real understanding of light and lighting. We will discuss types of cameras available, data storage and management systems, digital manipulation of images, and printing skills.

You will learn to produce high quality images with confidence and ease. You will also learn about flash lighting, light meters, scanning and image combinations.

Improve your digital imaging skills

You'll learn about lighting and camera controls. You'll develop great computer filing and storage systems and gain the basic skills to enable you to use digital retouching software.

Develop an image management system

This course will also cover an easy to use file management system; how to manage digital files for printing, saving you time and money.

Improve your visual communications skills

Malcolm Brownlee will teach you new ways of dealing with pictures. On completing this course you'll be able to produce professional results without the need for expensive equipment.
